EXPEDITION SOUTH SEAS - EXOTIC ISLAND PEARLS BEYOND THE HORIZON

This cruise blends rarely explored gems with South Seas classics, unfolding a pastel-hued paradise of exotic wonders both above and below the water—from powdery white beaches to vibrant coral gardens. Highlights include traditional welcome ceremonies and the mysticism of ancient marae sites, alongside off-the-beaten-path discoveries like Samoa and Wallis and Futuna, far from typical cruise routes. Zodiacs unlock access to small islands and atolls, offering intimate encounters with the pristine beauty of the Society Islands, Cook Islands, Fiji, and New Caledonia, culminating in a journey that's as unique as it is enchanting.

(Rabi, Taveuni, Ovalau, Leleuvia)

Rarotonga, the largest of the Cook Islands. It was settled by Polynesian seafarers many centuries ago and has since developed into a centre of Polynesian culture. European missionaries reached the island in the 19th century, bringing the influence of Christianity with them. Later on, Rarotonga became a British colony, before gaining independence in 1965. Today, visitors can explore historic sights including ancient villages and sacred sites. The history of Rarotonga is closely linked with the culture of the native Maori, who are proud of their cultural heritage. As well as its fascinating past, Rarotonga also offers breathtaking natural scenery, featuring lush rainforests and beautiful beaches to discover, where you can enjoy some relaxation time. Aitutaki is enchanting with its world-famous lagoon, which is so brightly coloured and clear that it's one of the most beautiful in the world and a great place for snorkelling, kayaking or just enjoying the tranquillity. Together, Rarotonga and Aitutaki represent the beauty and serenity of the Cook Islands, the ideal escape from everyday life.
