Chasing Light in East Greenland: Landscapes, Icebergs & Northern Lights

For landscape photographers and aurora chasers, East Greenland in autumn offers the ultimate expedition of Earth and sky. Under the guidance of world-class polar photographers Virgil Reglioni and Randy Hanna, this journey is your chance to capture otherworldly beauty - from towering icebergs and wildlife-strewn tundra to the shimmering dance of the northern lights.

At the heart of this voyage is Scoresbysund, the world's largest fjord system - a place of labyrinthine waterways, cathedral-sized icebergs, and stark, majestic mountains. As you explore this mythical region, you'll also have the chance to photograph Arctic wildlife such as musk oxen, Arctic foxes, hares, and perhaps even the elusive narwhal or polar bear.

By night, look to the skies. With zero light pollution and peak-season conditions in late September, East Greenland becomes one of the best places on Earth to witness and photograph the aurora borealis. Whether you're an experienced photographer or just starting out, Virgil and Randy will help you master the techniques needed to capture the aurora - images that truly stay with you forever.

This is a rare opportunity to shoot in a place where nature speaks in silence and light - a place where every landscape and night sky tells a story.

Is a story.

ITINERARY

Day 1 Keflavik

Meet other guests and Secret Atlas rep at the pre-arranged meeting point in Keflavik Airport, Iceland, before going through security together and boarding our charter plane to Nerlerit Inaat Airport (Constable Point), Greenland.

From the airport, we will take a short hike to the shore and board Zodiac boats to take us to our expedition ship.

Days 2 - 3 Viking Bay & Danmark Island

Explore Viking Bay by Zodiac cruise, marvelling at the bird cliffs and stunning basalt columns.

Hike on Danmark Island, a striking island in the fjord, spotting divers and maybe even musk oxen, alongside ancient Thule remains.

Days 4 - 6 Hare Fjord & Bear Islands

Sail into Hare Fjord, which likely gained its name from the Arctic hares that preside here.

Tour steep-sided Ofjord and land on the Bear Islands for panoramic views of this scenic stretch of Scoresbysund.

Land on Sydkap to discover Thule remains and a hunters' cabin, gaining a dramatic view of the surrounding icebergs on the border of the Northeast Greenland National Park.

Day 7 Ittoqqortoormiit

Sail to Ittoqqortoormiit, one of the remotest towns on the planet, with an idiosyncratic culture and way of life.

Day 8 Keflavik

Fly back to Keflavik on a charter plane, enjoying dinner and a night in a hotel before returning home.
